get complete pdf at learnexams.com

WGU D115 Final Exam (New 2023/ 2024) Advanced Pathophysiology for the Advanced Practice Nurse Exam| Real Questions and Verified Answers|100% Correct| Graded A

Q: An 18 year old college freshman is brought to the student health center with a chief complaint of a three day history of progressive headaches and intermittent fever. On physical examination he has positive Kernig and brudzinski signs. The most likely diagnosis is

Answer:
Bacterial meningitis

Q: A 32-year-old woman is seen in the emergency department complaining of severe headache and nausea. She reports a history of headaches often on for the past several months typically unilateral and without warning. In addition she reports that the headaches occur at varying times a day. Based on this brief history the NP suggests that the woman may have learnexams

Answer:
Migraine headaches

Q: An 18-year-old patient has recently been diagnosed with schizophrenia. During a follow-up visit his mother expresses feelings of stress hopelessness and insomnia. She is concerned that these symptoms will impact her ability to care for her son. The mother is likely experiencing

Answer:
Depression

Q: The nurse practitioner is caring for a person who has experience pain for three days. What signs with a professional know if the patient has anxiety in addition to the pain?

LEARNEXAMS.COM

get complete pdf at learnexams.com

Answer:
Increase heart rate and respiratory rate with diaphoresis

Q: The nurse practitioner is caring for a patient who is rewarmed after suffering from hypothermia. But possible long-term complications so the NP continue to assess the patient for?

Answer:
Renal failure

Q: During a well child visit a parent expresses that their child often weeks from sleep expressing intense anxiety. What disorder does NP educate the parents about

Answer:
Night terrors

Q: During an annual physical a patient reports concerns with fragmented sleep chronic daytime sleepiness and fatigue. He states that his wife often complains of his loud snoring. What treatment does the NP anticipate

learnexams

Answer:
Continuous positive Airway pressure while sleeping

Q: The nurse practitioner is caring for for post surgical patients. Based on understanding of the physiological process of nociceptors the NP expect to prescribe more pain medication for which patient

Answer:
Repair of several crushed fingers

Q: A seven year old boy is brought to the emergency department by his grandmother she informs staff that she is her grandsons guardian and that he's breathing heavily and smells funny.

LEARNEXAMS.COM

get complete pdf at learnexams.com

Laboratory test confirm that the child is in DKA. During DKA insulin counterregulatory hormones such as catecholamines and cortisol increase. Profound insulin deficiency results in

Answer:
Activation of glucose forming pathways in the liver.

Q: While her grandson is in the hospital the 60-year-old grandma has been drinking coffee in an attempt to stay awake at the bedside. She begins to complain of severe headaches. She informed the staff that the headache is usually related to an increase in blood pressure. Although she has been prescribed a medication that has been taking it regularly she continues to get issues. She is sweating and feels her heart racing. She is transported to the emergency department. She undergoes a barrage of test and two days later her physician is ready to discuss her diagnosis of Pheochromocytoma. Her symptoms are caused by an excess production of

Answer:
Norepinephrine. Symptoms associated with Pheochromocytoma occurred due to the race of norepinephrine and epinephrine

Q: Which statement is true regarding the thyroid hormone and the thyroid stimulating hormone TSH

learnexams

Answer:
TSH secretion is regulated by thyrotropin-releasing hormone.

Q: Obvious changes in cell function that are the result of simulation by a particular hormone describe what factor

Answer:
Down effects. Down effects are the obvious changes in cell function that specifically result from stimulation by a particular hormone.

Q: When an individual experiences nausea vomiting fatigue anorexia weakness and hypotension what hormone deficiency is most likely the cause

LEARNEXAMS.COM